

Article 1 Section 2

THE HAT HEIGHT PROTOCOL FOR PUBLIC DISCOURSE:

To ensure the dignity of the court, no lawmaker may address the assembly while wearing a hat shorter than six inches. This was a hard-fought concession made by the MadHatters Guild, who argued that "short hats lead to short tempers." Exceptions are made for bald officials, who must instead glue a single peacock feather to their forehead.